In Celebration on Women's Golf Day upcoming on Tuesday, June 4, the California Golf Course Owners Association, Nevada Golf Course Owners Association, and NGCOA Arizona will profile a series of inspirational women with deep roots in golf.

As a lifelong golf enthusiast, Nadia Chapman learned to play golf from her grandfather at eight years old on her family's executive par 3 course and later competed on her high school's Varsity Golf Team.

Working in the golf business has certainly been her passion as Nadia brings a decade of sales and marketing experience to the golf and hospitality industries. Nadia truly believes she has the dream job of traveling to different golf courses, resorts, and country clubs, currently serving as the regional Sales and Marketing Director for KemperSports.

With all of Nadia's travels, she is seeing many more opportunities for ladies and juniors to learn the game. She encourages all non-golfers to take a lesson and not get discouraged as it is a challenging sport, even for the best of players!

"I am your typical millennial golfer," Nadia explains. "I listen to music while playing and post pictures on social media of all my golfing adventures! I feel that I am a casual golfer. I don't keep score, which makes the experience a lot more enjoyable for me."

While Nadia has yet to hit a hole-in-one, she loves the game because it is challenging and rewarding. She enjoys the social aspect of spending time with people out on the course and being surrounded by nature. In addition to her love of everything golf, Nadia enjoys camping and off-roading. An animal lover, Nadia has two German Wirehaired Pointers and a cat. This June she is expecting her first child (a girl) who she fully intends to teach the game of golf!
